

Title of Article: Survey of Object Detection Methods in Camouflaged Image

Author(s): Sujit K Singh, Chitra A Dhawale, Sanjay Misra

Outlet: IERI Procedia

Date:

Abstract: Camouflage is an attempt to conceal the texture of a foreground object into the background image frame texture. Camouflage detection method or Decamouflaging method is basically used to detect foreground object hidden in the background image. In this research paper authors presented survey of camouflage detection methods for different applications and areas.